DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 11-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the elements. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted element is the acoustic liner, element 24 in Fig. 4 and 124 in Fig. 5. Without claiming said acoustic liner, the oscillation damping orifices as claimed in claim 1, read on cooling holes. Also, see the specification on p. 5, ll. 7-12 for the definition of these orifices that include as an essential element the acoustic buffer 25 that is defined by walls 12 (claimed) and liner 24 or 124 (unclaimed).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Waslo 4,984,429 that teaches the invention as claimed. Note the pilot (secondary) diffusion nozzle 60 (col. 3, ll. 19-20), the primary (main) pre-mix nozzles 50 (col. 2, l. 39 and Wilkes 4,292,801 col. 3, l. 55 et seq.), and holes 42, 44, 46 downstream the main nozzles.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 2-19 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Stokes 6082111.
